

Abstract

Piperazine derivatives flanked by aromatic moieties are able to modulate conditions affected by p38 kinase activity, such as proinflammation conditions.